NOT IN THE VALLEY ALONE. A farmer living in Eastern Washington, near Wada Walla, writes: "Your article on stagna-tion in the Willamette valley is too narrow in its application. This country is stagnant, too, Nothing pays. A few of us by extra go of management combined with frugality and industry get abead a little from year to year, but the ma-jority of farmers are defing nothing and man-ers power each full than before." This is a very sorry statement, but we have every reason to believe that it is the truth spoken in soberress and without enaggeration. In the Walla Walla Country as it the Willamette valley the rain dependence is wheat. The superheial Conditions are more favorable there than here, for the land is clear of timber and great areas can be planted without clearing. The yield, too, is much larger than in the valley. These advantages from a purely agricultural coint of view more than compensate the slightly inferior quality of the grain and the occasional failure of crops. But the farmer of Walla Walla and thereabout must pay a much higher freight rate to market than his competitor in the valley; and he nets under 50 cents per bushel for his product offener than above that figure. After paying for plowing, seeding, for the seed itself, for attention during the time of growth, for reaping, for threshing, for sacking and for handing to the railroad station there is precious little left for the farmer. In exceptional sears he makes a little money. In ordinary years he scrapes along without loss, and when the hard season comes he falls back and must mortgage his farm or sell out. This has been the condition of the country for the past four years. The country has escaped bankrupicy only because the seasons have been propitious. A failure of crops would bury it under mortgages.

Wheat does not pay because there are so many taxes upon it. The cost of farm machinery is nearly double that paid by eastern farm-ers, the freight rate to market is at least 50 per ent higher than it ought to be. For all that the firmer gets he must pay fancy prices; for the single product for which he can find a market he can not get a living price. The country as a whole is not favorable for fruit, so the farmer has not this resource. It is a fine stock country. but there is little market for stock except foot, in competition with range stock, so that will not pay. Dairying might be made profita-ble, but for butter and cheese there is no market to speak of, so that can not be counted upon. In short, there is nothing in the present situation of the country which will yield the farmer a decant living profit. The people are in a serious predicament, with only the indefin-ite hope for "better times" to keep them from Now, this is the plain truth, and it is stated none too soon to save the country from going backward. The remedy is clear, and it is the moral duty of men who have made great fortunes in this country to apply it. They owelf to this people and to this country, from which and in which they have gained so much, to set the springs of productive industry in motion among us, to give copplyment to labor, to work up the raw products of the country and to create a conaumptive market.

If no effort is made to revive and stimulate the fotunes of the country, the men who now count their would as great will, before a great while, and themselves the holders of depreciated properties. The wealth of the country de pends largely upon the value of real estate both in town and country. In the country values are steadily declining and have been for three years. ms in the Williamette valley which were sold for $20 per acto are now on sale with no taken at $12 per acre. Ere long tide decline in the very nature of things must reach the towns, unless the natural remedy is applied.

A LAND OF PURE DELIGHT.

Treasurer Wilson, and his predecessor Henry V. Lesiey, who robbed the Chesapeake and Fel-aware canal company of $600,000 through the fraudulent issue of bonds, are both of them safe in Canada, and it was only through the viglance of the Boston Journal reporter that defaulting banker Lane of that city was in cepted in his night to that courty. A few hours more would have seen him safe across the bor-der. Our extradition treaty with Great Britain is recurately described as both "an incentive as it is a shield to netarious swindling," since it permits a shield to netarious swindling," since it permits accoundred who robs a bank from within to def: arrest and punishment by taking a short flight to Canada. A New York bank defaulter can ake a train Saturday evening after banking hours and be in Montreal Sanday morning. No vigilance on part of the bank can protect it against traitors among its trusted officials. The bank using twelve its confidence to its officers, and a traitor experiment. traitor can quietly plan and execute his treason and place himself entirety beyond arrest and punishment before even a suspicion of his crime has been excited. It is honorable to human the crime has been excited. nan nature that so few bank officers batray their trusts, when the treaty is a standing invitation to steal a fortune and take to flight The present extradition treaty has not been since 1842. It covers only seven offenses, bich are murder, assault with intent to do nurder, piracy, arson, robbery, forgery and the uttrance of farged paper, but does not provide for the surrender of a fuglifie charged with em-bezziement, misappropriation of funds, larceny, ing which does not come under the head of forgery or robbery by force. In other words, a professional burgiar robe a bank by burnsing its doors and its inner vanits from without,—that is a bank robber who betrays no truet, can be extradited, - while a bank office or employe, who robe a bank through the op-portunity of a belrayal of trust; who chooses to initate the fruits of Ero, or the that's of Hinkley and Sout, is perfectly safe from punishment, if he can reach Conala with his planter, from criminals one not extraditable under our present theory with England. In other rords, Canada is a land of price delight, where fugi fre thieves can percentally roam with no one to molest them or make them afraid. Even if ne American rational is kidnapped in Canada and brought; cross no lines he can not be held. it Causda el ocses to demand his entrender. The worder is that England, who suffers as severely by the present treaty as we do, should not have moved for a terision long ago. That the two

Should have endured this treaty so long is a mat-ter for astonishment To illustrate: the escapell murderer Saunders le certain, if arrested in Canada to be surren dered, but if an officer of any of the dregon backs, or any costedian of public or private funds should sleet some Saturda, to skip to Brilish Columbia he could probably reach those rithout exciting any suspicion of his destination before Monday morning. A Saturday or Sun-day excursion could be easily taken and he would be safe in Canada before his crime was decovered. No wonder a treaty that makes either country a safe port and happy haven for the most dangerous robbers in the country; the robbers, whose skeleton key to all the locks is breach of trust, is styled not only a shield for crime but an incentire to crime, which breeds crimhals by its standing invitation to theft through its assurance of an asymmand impunity. End in Quebec was so impudent in his im-morality that he undertook by his profuse hos-pitality and social splendorth force his way into good society, but the upright English and Canadian residents repudiated him and all his cheapest, although of course there are pienty of outgar people everywhere, who will ask a thief to disnen or accept his invitation to dinner, so long as the thief is willing to pay for both dinners. They never cry "gambler" nutil they lose money instead of winning the other fellow's.

W. W. Corcoran has given $25,000 to the Calumbia university, District of Columbia. A minor gift accompanying the money was a pic-ture in oil colors telling the lamed story of the Lexington, Va. Corcoran was a banker in Washington during the war; a cowardly old "copperhend" who colored money under the protection of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the state of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the Lexington of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the Lexington of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the Lexington of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the Lexington of the flag that Lee tried to deag in the le dust. Leerisked his life and property to furl the stare and stripes, but Corcoran helped build a tomb for this brave rebel, for whose cause he never dared fire a shot or risk a dollar. If Lee foldiet in a nameless grave a century hence than steep in a mansoleum built by the gold of a man the heartless to follow the stars and stripes and too cowardly to risk his skin where his sympa-lies were, under the stars and bars. Lee was a mighty rebel and his sword dug many a Union grave, but Lee was too good a man to owe a monument to the monfficence of our who made all the money he gave under the flag Lee fought against. That is like a turkey buzzard bewalfagainst. That is like a burkey buzzard bewalf-ing a dead bald eagle as next of kin and offering to bury him with all the honors of the family. Lee's soldiers have a right to build his monu-ment, for none but brave and open rebels are orthy to deck the grave of so stout a soldler, A Union soldier might hesitate to build Lee's monument but he would rether do it than see monument, but he would rather do it than see it rise through the bounty of Northern copportheads, who accepted the shelter of our flag, bi; our armies in the back early and late, like woodlicks, but refused to fire a shot or spend a dpilar for either side. A great so dier's monument ought to have no stones in it paid for by testament, belonging to neither dispensation.

In his address before the Tammany society at New York on the Fourth of July, Senator Voor-hees of Indiana, dencounced divil service reform in vigorous terms. The San Francisco Exam-tico, a democratic paper, is greatly pleased with the address, and declares that Voorhees therein struck the key note of democratic sentiment. which is rapidly converging into unanimity of democratic feeling," and adds that "federal offi-ces belong to those which wit them at the polls? To this the Alia, another democratic paper, re-The referm of the civil service is instip.les: "The referm of the civil service is instituted and maintained in order to redeem it from the condition to which it was reduced by the party that was voted out of power in 1884. If this reform is an anomalization and unicomoratic, then the condition to which the civil service was brought by the republicans was democractic and constitutional. This statement is purtlean, untain good misleading. It is true chough that the republican party did not do for civil service referm what it ought to have done; but that party was not the author of the spetilist. but that party was not, the nuther of the spoils statem, nor was the civil service "reduced" to the spoils spatien by fibe party that was voted out of power in 1888." The republican party inerited the system, and all its abuses from the lemocratic party, which founded it and had practiced, it, many years. It did, however, agitate and begin a reform; but its fault is that it did not carry the reform as far as it ought. And it must be said that the democratic party is neither doing nor likely to do its entire duty in

In commenting on the Oregon election, the New York Horid enje; "The machine has been overbearing and meelent in Oregon and been overbearing and incolent in oregon and been disgusted many honest citizens who have heretofore acted with the republican party. Its action in forcing such a man as John H. Mitch-into the United States senate was the feather that broke the camel's back." The machine is indeed offices in Oregon, but the World ought to know that it has a democratic annex, and that it was the active support of this annex, with the votes it furnished, that enabled the ring to outrage the state by "forcing" Mitchel into the senate. The democratic party also felt the cotrage and recented it by defeating in their convention or at the polis ever, member of their party who had a hand in it.

Mrs. Lucy B. Hayes' husband pops up for a moment to denounce the vetues of fraudulent pension claims. President Cleveland, he thinks, is actuated by the rapidly growing feeling of mon who did nothing to put down the rebellion. Wonder how many Confederate scalps hang on the tent pole of Rhtherford's wigwam? - N. Y. Graphic.

Ex-President Hares was a vary gallant and efficient soldier; was twice severely wounded, and is mentioned in Grant's "Memoirs" as an officer of unusual courage, who performed a distinguished part in Sheridan's battles Cedar Creek and Winchester.

Mrs. Sloan, recently tried at Chelica, Vt., for the murder of her four-rear-old boy, was con-victed of manslaughter. The woman had a drunken hesband, who persecuted and tortured her so unceasingly with his personal abuse, that hed drove the woman into a fit of temporary in-sanity. No woman would kill her own child of tender years, except her mind had been upset. Her conviction is the purishment of a lonatic, as a same and responsible person, and her trial and its results are a disgrace to her community.

This is so well said by the New York Tributa that no one need try to say it better: "Every commencement day brings the time nearer when a man will be astanted of himself for affording his sons better educational facilities than he affords his daughters."

Gen. James A. Beaver, the nominee of the Pot Replyania republicans for governor, was a gullant soldier; who lost his leg in the war as colonel of the 148th Pennsylvania volucteers. He was breveited briguiller general for his ser-vices August 1, 1881.

The republicans of Missouri have two representatives in the present dongress, but the democrats refixed the districts so that their 255,988 votes would elect a solid delegation, leaving the 202,929 republicans without any.

Senstor Bowen's Colorado is generally concoded to actor linear placer in Washington. He is also very food of coaching neophytes to the school of A short line and Solvent Kenna of West Virginia conceived a longing to foarn the game shall which he had neard so much. Of contact he applied to Rowen's middry he gave Kenna leaded which he had neard so much. Of contact he applied to Rowen's middry he gave Kenna leaded hits, of which Bowen is chairman. The West Virginian scened to make rapid advancement, and its right and seemed to make rapid advancement, and its right in special chamber they usually occupied adjoining chairs and were often in eager converse. This caused some comment, as the senators are from widely separated sections of the country belong to opposing parties, and are on no committee, together. It was generally understood, though, that

Of conversation, since Bowen had been basting of Kenbar's new acquirement. One night has week a friendly party was gathered in Bowen's mon at the Higgs books. (Genna was there, and so was Dolph, of Oregon, whose skill at cards is a recognized both here and at home. During the conversation Bowen started off on the old theme, and lauded Kenna's progress under his telescopies, and lauded Kenna's progress under his telescopies, and lauded Kenna's progress under his telescopies, and lauded Kenna's trained by the second of the second particular and telescopies, and the second control of the second particular and the second particular and the second particular and the telescopies. At this point a couple of Western members came in, and it was some minutes before the game proceeded. Finally kenna dealt the cards, in the draw he got two queens and arrace. Rowen could hardly restruint his wellight, and it was evident from life expression that he loneed to yell to his pupil: "Bot it my boy, lerially out are worth!" Reana did not seem to be correpted, however. As becomes generally do, he laid his seroud pair aside from the first, and putting his ellows on the table, awaited the before, Dolph, of course, thought his opponent had two pairs, as he is a sharp observer during the game. Having three access himself he went about first-before, in a very confident way. Enjoying the Hospitality of the People At the Bay

Oleang Days of the Association-Some Time Given to Work, but More to Excursions

They morning promises a day of uncommon beauty in this new San Francisco of the North west. The clouds have passed by the winds have gone whither they listed leaving yaquina bay a wast mirror, smooth and untroubled in which are reflected the bills, tree, houses and pleasure boats that go admining lover its surface under the probelling power of the oar Birds are singing neer rily, rejoicing apparent y in the return of sun ahine and caim. The good people of the bay are doing everything in their power to make this visit of the teachers of the state pleasant and profitable and a period to which the teachers may in future refer with pleasure and not regret. The railroad company's ter boat has been at the service of the association, the steamers Tressa May and Clevecompany's tog boat has been at the service of the association the steamers Tressa May and Cleve-land have been run ing day and night at mere nominal figures. And now to-day a grand everyston will be given to as Island in the upper part of the hay three milys distant from this place. This excursion planned by Messrs M. Davis, T. J. Buford, Harris Grant, D. W. Cummins, (the company's efficient and courteous agont), and other gentlemen in conjunction with the W. C. T. U. grassents a striking contrast to that participated in by the association at Astoria one year ago, mannuch as this obd is free to all who wish to go, and anoreoven those having the matter in charge bave provided free into for the excursionists. This the work of the association cummated last evening with the does of the literary and musical entertainment, and this morning the tide of visitions hat has been flowing in for several days from the valley began to recede About 100 teachers took the train for home despite the many inducements held out to, them to remain. If they go back to their schools no better prepared for daily school work than when they came, they can as cribe their failure to the loss of to-day's exercises. At 10 c cock Superintendent McElroy called the Institute to order. Before taking the regular work of the meroning Prof Burnham of Portland sing gested the propriety of effecting a permanent or gantzation of the teachers of the state. There upon N Dark, of korest Grove offered the following resolution:

Whereas, Orpanization and system are necessary elements of success in all departments of labor, and

whereas, organization and system are necessary elements of success in all departments of labor, and Wereras Certain expenses must be met at each annual meetin, of the teachers of this state for which no provision is made by the state there.

Resolved, By the teachers here assembled that a remained society be organized to be known as the State Teachers' Association of Oregon and that such society be organized at once.

Resolved, By the teachers here assembled that a purpointed by buperinted at the Editor of three by appointed by buperinted at once.

Resolved Second that a committee of three be appointed by buperinted at the Editor to report a constitution for said organization before the close of the present association.

Prof. Swett, of Ashland moved the adoption of the resolutions, and the resolutions were made a special order for 2 P M to-day.

Physiology and bygiene was the first topic for consideration. Supt. Baird of Clackanas county gives a brief lecture on physiology, using a life site mankin in limits suion. Mr.

Physiology and bygiene was the first topic for consideration. Supt. Baird of Clackanas county after the profession of Eugene thought the mankin a valuable auxiliary in teaching bysiology, but warned teachers not to trust too much to an object, would have a student learn to place an outline of every lesson upon the blackboard not merely it words but drawlugg in the case of plays load on the first words but drawluggs in the case of physiology of all the bones. Mr. Royal of Opegon Olt, had found difficulty in preventing pupils from getting wrong impressions as to shape of organs when using charts thought the mankin better.

In connection with the discussion on physiology.

Largette was to have presented this subject but was prevented be no present by a sudden bereate ment in her family. Mr. Burnham of Portland called upon by Supt. Mr. Euroham of Portland called upon by Supt. Mr. Euroham of the metallong of temperance. The kindergarten resolution did not fall into the suggestep predicted for it but was proposed again coday in a new dress which made it look differently to its opponents but the more intelligent part of the association recognized precisely the same ideas as were presented in the resolution of pesterday. It was as follows.

Resoluted, That we heartly indures the kindergarten work of the city of Portland to represented resterday it was as follows Roolzod, That we beartly indores the kinder-carten work of the city of Portland is represented by Mrs Dunlap and others and recommend to the egislature that the school law be so amended that sinderigate be established in the public schools inder trained kinderparteners in all towns of over 1000 inhabitants.
